Can you talk now? I am expecting a call from the Indian office about LDF but I want to make sure I talk with you today before you are off the clock.

I am on AL that day.

Maybe that is for the better anyway. I would like to request to be excused from these calls in the future. They serve no purpose but to get my blood pressure beyond the acceptable range and confuse me on what I should do. It would be better if I stayed with the tech group on those calls. For the tribe calls, I feel that it would be better for me to be told what to do after the call is completed and not participate directly.
